COM DEV International

155 Sheldon Drive, Cambridge, Ontario (see attached map)

www.comdev.ca

Join us for a tour of COM DEV International Ltd. which is a global designer and manufacturer of space hardware. Their technology is used on more than 700 spacecraft, including 80% of all commercial communications satellites ever launched. The company's headquarters in Cambridge is comprised of three business units and produces COM DEV's legacy core products: integrated multiplexers, ancillary microwave components, electromechanical switches and space electronics. The tour will feature COM DEV's fabrication shop which deals mostly with R&D, engineering development and small batch production. They have 2, 3, 4 and 5 axis machining capability, supported by a programming group and ceramics grinding as well as an EDM group, a deburring facility and quality control.
